Bio: I need a coffee break... stat!! Well, I don't actually 'drink' coffee... but I can easily picture myself lying at the feet of someone relaxing on a sofa enjoying a hot cup of coffee and reading the morning paper. I really appreciate mature adult humans, and truly enjoy being around folks with laid-back personalities. My name is Tasha and I arrived as a stray in early May 2015. I am estimated to be a 9 year old American Bulldog mix. I'm a sweet ol' gal with lots of spunk and I like to impress people by showing off how I can "sit", "lie down", and "shake" with BOTH paws! I am searching for a home with adults who can physically handle my big XL frame, and a home in the country away from other pesky pets. Please understand I am basically royalty and shouldn't have to share all the attention with any other pets!
